NASA AASC TEST STAND

Sauer provided the procurement, fabrication, and coatings of a static load test stand used in support of the NASA Orion program. The test stand was fabricated at Sauer's shop in Oak Hill and transported across the country to California.

MOBILE LAUNCH PLATFORM

This project consisted of the fabrication and on-site assembly of a mobile launch pad. The 450-ton structure was fabricated and fit checked at Sauer's Oak Hill shop, then broken down into the largest possible segments for shipping.

VANDENBERG AFB LAUNCH COMPLEX

Sauer provided the fabrication and installation of the 400-ton, welded fixed launch deck. The structure was fabricated at Sauer's Oak Hill shop and then disassembled into segments. The greatest segment weighed over 100 tons and is one of the largest loads ever to be shipped coast to coast.
